GETTING READY

Before Your Head Spa

For every head spa and scalp treatment. A little prep keeps you comfortable and helps us get the most from your visit.

APPOINTMENT DATE & TIME

SERVICE

1 week
before

Planning color or a perm? Leave [72] hours between any chemical service and your visit.

Hair extensions? Tell me when you book. [Your extensions policy.]

Booking LED? List medicines that make you light-sensitive (some antibiotics, retinoids, St John's wort).

Neck problems, vertigo or dizziness at a shampoo bowl? Tell me first.

Skip heavy styling products, dry shampoo and hair oils so your scalp shows clearly.

No scrubs or exfoliants at home, and try not to scratch.

Booking high frequency? No hairspray or alcohol-based products on the day.

Check your scalp for sunburn, sores or anything new.

Day of your appointment

Come with dry hair, washed or unwashed, as you like.

Wear comfortable clothes with a loose neckline.

Remove earrings and hair clips before we start, or leave them home.

Light makeup or none is best; it may smudge.

Scalp analysis

· A small camera shows your scalp up close on screen.

· I photograph the same [4–6] zones to track progress.

· Images stay private, shared only with your consent.

· We talk through what we see. It's not a diagnosis.

Lying back

· You rest on a [head spa bed / padded bowl] with your neck supported.

· Tell me right away if your neck strains or you feel dizzy.

· I sit you up slowly at the end.

· Too warm or cool? Just say.

After your visit

· Hair may be damp or oily; bring a hat or hair tie.

· Makeup near your hairline may smudge.

· Allow [60–90] minutes in total.

· Plan a calm, unhurried hour after.

PLEASE TEXT TO RESCHEDULE IF YOU HAVE

· Head lice or nits

· Open sores, cuts or a sunburned scalp

· A color or chemical service in the last [72] hours

· Ringworm or a scaly, itchy patch

· A fever, cold or flu, or feel unwell

· A psoriasis or eczema flare (tell me first)

I ask for [24] hours' notice. If it's about your health or safety, just text. We'll find a new time together.

Important

Pregnant? It's not an automatic no. I'll adjust your position for comfort, keep essential oils minimal and skip high frequency [and LED, per policy]. High blood pressure or a heart condition? I'll keep heat and steam gentle. Tell me and we'll plan together.
