AFTERCARE

After Your Cupping

Cupping marks are normal and fade on their own. Here's what to expect and how to help your skin and muscles settle after your session.

YOUR LOGO

WHEN	WHAT'S NORMAL	DO	AVOID
Today marks appear	Round pink, red or purple marks. Areas may feel warm, tight or a little tender.	Keep marked areas warm and covered. Rest, and drink water if you like.	Hot tubs, saunas, cold plunges and intense exercise for [24] hours.
Days 1–3 settling in	Marks may darken slightly before they fade. Mild itching or stiffness is common.	Warm showers, gentle stretching and loose, soft clothing over marks.	Sun on marked skin. Scrubbing, exfoliating or scratching itchy areas.
Days 3–10 fading	Marks lighten to yellow or brown, then fade. Darker marks take longer.	Cover marks with clothing, or use sunscreen on them outdoors.	Cupping, scrubs or strong pressure on the same area until marks fade.
[2–4] weeks next visit	Areas feel looser. Marks may be lighter with repeat sessions.	Book your next session. Tell me about health or medication changes.	Starting blood thinners or new medications without letting me know.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Mark color varies from person to person
- Dark marks aren't a sign of "toxins" leaving
- Light-headed afterward? Sit, rest and have a snack
- Cupping supports comfort; it doesn't cure conditions
- Marks usually aren't painful to touch
- Marks may show in photos and sleeveless clothes
- Plan big events around visible marks
- Tell your doctor about cupping if they ask about marks

Stay warm
Cover cupped areas and skip drafts today.

Go easy
No hard workouts for [24] hours.

Skip the sun
Marked skin can burn more easily.

Hands off
Don't scratch, scrub or pick at marks.

CALL ME RIGHT AWAY IF YOU NOTICE

- Blisters or broken skin in a cupped area
- Warmth, swelling or pus around a mark
- Pain that gets worse instead of better
- Marks still dark after [2] weeks

Spreading redness, pus or fever: please see a doctor. Chest pain, trouble breathing or fainting: call 911.

AREAS CUPPED TODAY

MARKS SHOULD FADE BY

YOUR NEXT SESSION