WHAT MASSAGE INVOLVES
Hands-on techniques on muscles and soft tissue, with oil or lotion, while you rest under a sheet or blanket.

WHAT IT ISN'T
Not a diagnosis, treatment or cure, and not a substitute for care from your doctor or other provider.

YOU'RE IN CONTROL
Change the pressure, skip any area, stay clothed, or stop at any time. Just say so.

Possible effects

Muscle soreness. Tenderness for 24–72 hours, more likely after deeper or focused work.

Bruising. Light bruising can happen, especially with blood thinners or easy bruising.

Lightheadedness. Feeling dizzy or relaxed-heavy when you sit up. Rise slowly.

Tiredness. Feeling sleepy or low on energy for the rest of the day.

Skin reaction. Redness or itching from oils or lotions, most often nut oils or fragrance.

Emotional release. Tears or strong feelings can surface. This is normal; we can pause anytime.

Temporary flare. Old aches can feel more noticeable for a day before easing.

Rare injury. Serious injury from massage is rare. Honest health information helps prevent it.

Please tell me if you are pregnant, take blood thinners, or have had recent surgery, injury, a clot or heart issues.

Allergic to nuts or fragrance? A nut-free, unscented lotion is available. Some conditions need a doctor's OK first.

I've read this page and had my questions answered. No specific result was promised to me.
My health information is honest and complete. I'll share any changes before each session.
I understand draping and boundaries: only the area being worked is uncovered, and I can stay clothed.
I'll speak up about pressure, pain, temperature or discomfort, and I know I can stop the session at any time.
Massage isn't medical care. My therapist doesn't diagnose or prescribe; I'll see my doctor.
Sexual contact is never part of massage. Inappropriate behavior ends the session, charged in full.
I'm not under the influence of alcohol or drugs. My session may be declined or ended if I am.
I release [Your Business Name] from claims arising from health details I withheld, per [State] law.
I am 18 or older, or my parent or guardian signs below and stays [in the room / on site] for my session.
