AFTERCARE · SELF-CARE GUIDE

Your Self-Care Guide

Simple ways to feel good between sessions: after-massage care, gentle stretches, heat or ice, and when to call a doctor.

YOUR LOGO

After your massage

The rest of today

REST
Take it easy. Skip hard workouts for [24] hours after deep work.

WARM BATH
A warm bath or shower helps muscles stay relaxed.

MOVE GENTLY
A short walk and easy stretches ease stiffness.

WATER
Sip water if you're thirsty. It simply helps you feel good.

SORE TOMORROW?
Mild soreness for 24–72 hours is common after deeper work.

Gentle stretches

Hold 20–30 seconds, breathe

NECK SIDE STRETCH
Sit tall and tip one ear toward your shoulder. Keep shoulders down.

DOORWAY CHEST
Forearms on a door frame, then step through until your chest opens.

SEATED HAMSTRING
Sit on a chair edge, one heel out, and hinge forward from your hips.

CAT-COW
On hands and knees, slowly round your back, then let it gently dip.

NEVER STRETCH INTO PAIN
A gentle pull is right. Sharp pain or tingling means ease off.

Heat or ice?

A simple guide

HEAT
For tight, stiff muscles. Warm, not hot, for 15–20 minutes.

ICE
For a new bump or swelling. Wrap it; 10–15 minutes at a time.

SKIP BOTH
Numb skin, diabetes or poor circulation? Ask your doctor.

NOT SURE?
Choose what feels better, and always use a cloth barrier.

WHEN TO REBOOK
Every [2–4] weeks for upkeep; sooner for a specific concern.

Posture at your desk

Screen height
Top of the screen at eye level.

Sit back
Feet flat, low back supported.

Soft shoulders
Elbows in, shoulders relaxed.

Move often
Get up every 30–60 minutes.

THIS IS NORMAL

- Mild soreness or tenderness for 24–72 hours
- Feeling sleepy, relaxed or a little thirsty
- Light redness that fades within hours
- A small, faint bruise that fades in days
- Feeling emotional after a session
- Old aches feeling noticeable for a day

CALL YOUR DOCTOR IF YOU NOTICE

- A bruise that grows, or is very painful
- Numbness or tingling that doesn't go away
- Soreness that gets worse after 3 days
- A rash or itching from oil or lotion
- A headache or dizziness that won't ease
- Swelling in a joint, or pain with fever

Get urgent care for pain, swelling, warmth or redness in one calf or leg. It can be a blood clot.

Call 911 for chest pain, sudden shortness of breath, or trouble breathing.

YOUR NEXT SESSION

STRETCHES FOR YOU

NOTES