AFTERCARE

Caring for Your New Curls

The first [48 to 72] hours lock in your curl. After that, moisture and a gentle touch keep it bouncy for [3 to 6] months.

YOUR LOGO

WHEN	WHAT'S NORMAL	DO	AVOID
First 48–72 hours curl is setting	Curls look tighter than they'll settle. A perm smell is normal, mostly when wet.	Keep hair dry for [48–72] hours. Let it fall loose and scrunch gently with fingers.	Shampoo, wetting, sweat and steam. [Tight ponytails and clips for 48 hours]. Brushing.
Weeks 1–2 settling in	Curls relax a little and soften. The smell fades with each wash.	Sulfate-free, curl-friendly shampoo and conditioner. Diffuse or air-dry.	Color for [2 weeks]. Brushing curls dry, flat irons and chlorine.
Weeks 4–12 enjoy it	Curl loosens gradually and new growth comes in straight at the root.	Deep condition [weekly]. Wide-tooth comb on wet hair only. Trim every [8–12] weeks.	Daily hot tools, salt water and rubbing hair with a rough towel.
Ongoing next visit	The perm grows out over [3–6] months. Ends stay curled until they're trimmed.	Book trims and your next perm. Tell me about color, relaxers or health changes.	Box dye, a relaxer or a home perm over this one; they can break hair.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Scrunch, don't brush: brushing breaks up curls
- A microfiber towel or T-shirt helps cut frizz
- Refresh second-day curls with water and leave-in
- Color after [2 weeks], or as I advise
- The perm smell is normal and fades in a few washes
- A silk or satin pillowcase protects your curl
- Swimming? Wet hair and add leave-in first
- Trims every [8–12] weeks keep ends healthy

Stay dry
No water for [48–72] hours.

Hands off
No tight ties or clips for [48] hours.

Go gentle
Sulfate-free, curl-friendly care.

Air-dry
Diffuse or air-dry; skip hot tools.

CALL ME RIGHT AWAY IF YOU NOTICE

- Scalp itching, a rash or bumps
- Blistering, oozing or crusting on the scalp
- Redness or burning that gets worse, not better
- Breakage, or hair that feels gummy

Eye pain or any change in your vision: get urgent eye care today. Trouble breathing, or swelling of the face or throat: call 911.

CURL PRODUCTS TO USE

YOUR NEXT TRIM

YOUR NEXT PERM